WARRIOR

About Us

Warrior Zone was founded in 2020 by John and Ashley Holloman. John, a competitor on American Ninja Warrior Season 7, felt that a Ninja Obstacle Training Center was just what Eastern North Carolina needed! Ashley served to bring women in to the mix and show that “Girls Ninja, too!” After 3 years, a global pandemic, and life changes, the Holloman family needed to take a new track in life. So, they found another ninja family, with similar values, to take on the gym.

The current owners, Rick and Jennifer duPont, were gymnastics parents whose daughters became ninjas. The girls trained at their local gym and the adults had become involved in the community. When John was looking for new owners to take over, the current ownership became official in January 2023. Since then, the USA Ninja National governing body has been seated and ninja is really going places as a sport. Warrior Zone strives to train the whole athlete and looks forward to Warrior Zone based ninjas making it to international competitions!
